

Abolition of Political Parties

Part 3

by John Vincent

Please read the downloads from my article dated 13 September from diabolical alliance to abolition parts 1 and 2 to fully appreciate what I am saying now – or you could just read the full version of “UK parliamentary reform” which I recommend.

The essence of the plan for reform is continuity. Everything is dysfunctional because there is no continuity between governments and leadership changes. There is no forward planning on anything. How can there be when all that matters currently is which gang is in charge for the next 5 years! The independence of the MPs guarantees this continuity. New MPs will inherit effectively the thoughts and ideas of their colleagues and predecessors and hopefully they will develop them for changes in world circumstances.

The first election without political parties must disallow the current MPs from standing. This will give the standing MPs time to erase party consciousness from their minds and souls. They will effectively be banned for 5 years as a form of cleansing. The new MPs, being independent and not party clones, will give added value to parliament so they must be given an incentive. I think the MPs salaries should be increased to about £150,000 and the PM £750,000 and this will be the same as the head of the New Business Department.

The populace suffer from the illusion that the government cares about them whereas in fact they are enticing, blackmailing, coercing, cajoling and deceiving people into taking injections into their bodies which have not been properly trialled. In the case of this Autumn booster not tested at all! These injections have killed over 100,000 and maimed for life over 500,000 people in England alone (government figures). They have paused injections for those aged 5 to 11 but still continue with the killing and maiming of the 12+ errrrr!!! All this supposedly to protect against a virus that I think does not exist. If it does exist then it is hardly dangerous even with the mythical figures for deaths produced by the government. A Covid death is a death which occurs within 28, 45 or 60 days (take your choice, it is completely arbitrary) within a positive result of a PCR test. They ever so subtly changed from positive PCR test in March 2020 to cases in the summer 2020, then infections in November 2020. The symptoms or cause of death are irrelevant. We don't really need a virus to project fear into people. All that is required is that people think there is one and that it is dangerous. If we want Covid to disappear, then we stop testing. Easy!

The PCR test produces 95% to 100% false positives. Kary Mullis, the inventor of the PCR test, died mysteriously on 7 August 2019, two months before Bill Gates met the Chinese Communist Party in New York to plan the Wuhan Covid scam. Kary Mullis stated on a video that the PCR test was not designed to detect live viruses – what was the cause of his death?

More and more countries are testing the vaccine vials and discovering that graphene oxide is present in all the manufacturers' injections ostensibly for Covid and in the flu vaccines and in the PCR test swabs and in the mass-produced masks. Graphene oxide was not mentioned by the injection manufacturers in their list of ingredients supplied to the Big Pharma-controlled regulatory authorities worldwide. Pfizer, in their abundant arrogance, laughed it off as a trade secret! Graphene oxide travels around the body in nano-particles and resides on all the organs of the body. Graphene oxide is a very effective conductor, apart from being a poison, and, as such, will interfere with the delicate human electromagnetic system, causing disease of any description. It is well known that it causes blood clots.

A Canadian doctor, with 900 patients, was wary about the “vaccines” so he tested the patient's blood before and after the “vaccine” using a D-Dimer test. The D-Dimer tests for blood clots in the capillaries. The outcome of the tests was that 62% of his patients had blood clots in their capillaries ONE DAY after the “vaccine” was administered.

Apart from the above massive ongoing fraud the government are enacting many laws to restrict our freedom which commenced with the Coronavirus Act in 2020. These laws are designed to control disinformation and misinfomation which is not defined, but effectively, they can do anything to the people if they disagree with the flow of disinformation and misinfomation emanating from the government. Telling the truth is a criminal offence.

I have covered all the other scams going on in the “Diabolical Alliance”. These are all being administered by our government. All parties are involved. It is much easier to corrupt a party than a group of independent individuals. The most effective way to remove the influence of GR and the MSM from our parliament that I can see is to replace all the current MPs with aware, intelligent, compassionate and creative people who care about this country and its citizens, hence the higher salary. The electorate will be encouraged to awaken from their disenfranchised state and take the election of an independent MP seriously as the quality of their MP will be reflected in future dealings with that individual (not a party representative). The better the quality of the MPs - the better the quality of the government. New faces are fundamental to remove the corruption created by GR and Common Purpose (CP) operatives. New faces and their creativity are necessary to examine every facet of our life.

We currently don't have a functioning Health Service. This is a deliberate policy of GR to turn the NHS into a drug distribution and vaccine centre with no regard whatsoever for the comfort and fate of their customer base. The older generation used to refer to them as patients – now they are effectively points of sale for Big Pharma. The government are knowingly destroying the NHS under orders from GR. The current aim of GR is to bankrupt our country and divert as many funds from the UK as they can into GR-controlled entities. They wish to install a credit system in the future so that all, or a large part of the income arising to an individual will emanate from the government so that we will be dependent upon them every day of our lives. The amount of our credits will be adjusted to the level of our subservience. High subservience – clotted cream with your raspberry pavlova once a week. Low subservience - “penny for a cup of tea , mate”.

One intention of GR is to remove cash from the financial system so the people with a low subservience factor will not even get a cup of tea. They will probably die because they cannot borrow cash due to its absence and they cannot get a loan from a friend electronically because this will be blocked and the lender will then rocket down to a much lower subservience factor. Maybe he will die too - just for doing a favour to a friend. The low subservient factor human could befriend somebody who owns a local store. No they can't! There are no local stores left. Supermarkets? Sorry. All GR controlled.

“You are sentenced to death. You will hang by the neck until you are dead”.

“Oh thanks, Your Honour, There is a God after all. I won't have to doff my cap anymore.”

“I still have my property”. Not for long you won't. It is a little known fact that land and property records are being computerised worldwide. Who has access to those records? GR, of course, you silly billy. So you could end up renting your dream home , that you used to own, out of your miserable social credits. “! still have my savings”. You really don't get it, do you. When Klaus

Schwab said “you will have nothing and you will be happy”, he really wasn't joking - maybe a tad tongue in cheek about the happy bit. He wasn't joking about population reduction either. At what stage in the process of the take-over of humanity will humans finally realise that they are under threat? When they lose their house. Too damned late.

I apologise to some readers for the last few paragraphs since you are probably aware already of their content. The point I am trying to make is that abolition of political parties can be an intellectual exercise discussed in the House of Commons bars or even implemented to improve our democracy but it is an absolute imperative now. If you are uncertain about this then please re-read the above paragraphs. The government is knowingly killing and maiming its citizens under the bidding of an outside entity. Danger!!! When are they going to stop doing what they are told? There is already another 150 to 200 billion pounds loan made available re the energy cap to add to the Covid 300 million. Where does that go? To the GR controlled energy companies. Lockdowns - where does the money flow? Amazon, social media companies and supermarkets to name but a few- all GR controlled.

Have you noticed that the government, since March 2020, have done absolutely nothing to help the citizens of this country at all? All they have done is damage. It appears that they are operating two economies. So they go to the Rothschild controlled City of London “any chance of a billion loan to house the homeless?” “Don't be ridiculous. Although we are planning a hike in energy prices shortly so we can lend up to 200 billion for that to get the people more reliant upon the government. We don't want any riots yet. If any of that goes to the homeless we will know.” “But” “But, prime minister. Who is running this country? Us or you?” Massive sums of money are made available to the government to serve the cult agenda but over the last twelve years the other economy has been living on an ever-increasing overdraft. Borrowing over that period rose by nearly 1 trillion pounds in that period. The UK have been living on tick with interest payments rising dramatically. Sunak had the cheek to increase taxes exorbitantly to pay off the GR inspired loans not the “normal” overdraft.

The City of London is a separate legal entity, has its own judiciary and police. It sits over the UK government. The same is true of the District of Columbia in Washington D. C. and the Vatican City. The same is largely true of the Bank of International Settlements in Switzerland. The world's money disappears into these places.

Will the government stop following orders from GR? I cannot see it quite frankly after the wilful behaviour with these injections. This implies that it will stop at nothing to please their bosses. There is scarcely any dissent from any MP of any party. The truth is only available on-line. Yet there is no evidence to suggest that any of the MPs are doing this research. This is unforgivable from people who purport to be acting in our interests. If some MPs are going on-line then they are too cowardly to discuss their findings in public - so more and more injection deaths – more damaged immune systems. Nothing to do with me. They are all guilty of negligence and/or cowardice at a minimum. This is a good enough reason to ban the current 650 from standing for parliament for 5 years apart from the healing factor of erasing 300 years of the party system.

I just watched a snippet of the Labour party conference on the news. It made me quite sick. They are pushing the GR climate change scam agenda as if it will have some positive impact on the electorate. They are just as deceitful as the other parties hence the complete dearth of opposition to the Conservatives. Their leader, maybe that is too strong a word, is a member of the Trilateral Commission (TC), another powerful quango, and the TC is high up in the globalist pyramid of authority. This is why his speeches are so passionless because he has foreknowledge of future events and he is GR through and through. To put it bluntly it is an illusion to say that we have a government of elected individuals because all the MPs, tacitly or actively, are serving GR.

The people have to take control of their future. We need to get a movement going to remove these political parties before the 2024 election. The “small” problems of the demise of the NHS, the education system that is so flawed that it does not encourage imagination, the corruption in the higher ranks of the police force, in academia and scientific research. There is a need to examine what society considers a crime. See my lengthy sketch in “our problem”. The 24-hour line will release a potential of 67 million people giving ideas to the government.

Postboard entry: Thank you to Endrit Kastrati for his magnificent idea submitted about health service reform. Endrit is an illegal Albanian immigrant living in a cheap hotel just off Tinderbox bypass.

He phoned our 24-hour line and this was his message reproduced in full:- “I am new to this country. The hotel walls are beautiful but they are all the same colour. This bores me. There is no golf course within walking distance. I found it difficult staring at these walls all of same colour every day so I bought a new mobile phone to replace the one I threw into the English Channel. I decided to do some research. What do I know about? Drugs. I know a lot about drugs. So who buys drugs? The NHS. So through a friend who delivers supplies to the NHS I find a list of drug prices. I can't believe what the NHS pays. I could get them cheaper through my contacts back home. And these drugs wouldn't work either but they would be less expensive. Maybe I am in the right country after all. Then the NHS completely ignores other forms of healing which don't involve drugs and vaccines, spiritual healers, crystal healers, herbalists, acupuncturists and many many others that all understand the human body as a complex electromagnetic system. The NHS is being conned. The citizens of the UK are being conned. So why doesn't parliament get these healers together at a one- week conference and show their skills to the health department? The NHS could save enough money to make me a golf course.”

Another example:-

“Hello - one votes (going up in the last syllable for effect)”

“ I don't have a question or an idea but I just wanted to tell you that my production figures have increased by 20% over the last year and I don't know why.”

“ Have you checked the employees' happiness level? “

“How do you do that”

“The main symptoms of happiness are grins, smiles and laughter in its highest form. These have been quite rare in recent years. Have you noticed any of these symptoms in the last year when compared to the previous year?”

“By George! You are right. I have heard laughter at times and they do appear more relaxed. So do you think that is something to do with this “one-vote” line?”

“100% to do with it. This line is installed to integrate the electorate into the policy formation of their country. I love this work because I can feel an increase in positivity from the callers and such a variety of subjects and nationalities. The callers are invigorated by being allowed in to what was considered the private sanctum of politics. I think the word politics will gradually disappear from our speech due to its Machiavellian connotation. This is a 24-hour day interactive democracy.”

“How do you manage with all the variety in the callers?”

“ Well, basically we are all conscious beings comprised of mind and soul/spirit. Our hearts are the same colour. We all urinate and defecate. We are all the same really.”

“Yes. That is a great way of looking at people.”

“Do you want me to refer your comment to the Spiritual Health Department?”

“ ? Never heard of that”

“Few people have. They just have Greta as their sole secretary who breezes into their office with a compliment from the public and dances around shouting YESSSS! She will then compose herself and return to her desk. The trouble was that there were 5 people in that room who were only accepting compliments from the public on behalf of the government. Well one day they all disappeared.”

“Wow. That is some story.”

“The police got involved and their partners interviewed. Their partners testified that they had not seen them since the day of the disappearance. Now this was really spooky for the police. All of them were really happy. It was almost as if they were relieved their partners had gone. They all told the police that they had not left but they cannot see them anymore. They therefore told the police to call off the search, which they did. A friend of mine went to see a psychic/healer about this. The psychic said the answer was quite simple. They haven't disappeared – they are just vibrating at a higher frequency so they are out range of sight. The visual part of the electromagnetic spectrum is very small so the fact that you cannot see them does not mean they are not there. Who has seen a micro wave or a radio wave? There are many many more entities in the universe than those that you can see – an entity being defined as a conscious being comprised of mind and soul/spirit. The healer went on to say that what is in that room is pure and adulterated love which has been built up by the compliments to the government over a period of time. The healer said that their disappearance was a gift from them to the government and the nation for following a spiritual course.”

“Wow. I have said that before, haven't I? Have you ever been into that room?”

“Yes, Five times. I can't go in now until just before lunch because it takes me an hour to get over the euphoria. In each of the previous four visits I went straight back to work afterwards which was a big mistake. I couldn't take the callers seriously I was so euphoric. One of them asked me if I was on drugs. I just said that I had a weird awakening.”

“Is love a drug?”

“If it is then it is a lot cheaper than alcohol, cigarettes and street products.”

“Do you think it is wise to inform Greta? She must be close to going. She also must be lonely.”

“I think so too. She has a huge aura. She can't stop laughing. I think she is bubbling up.”

“In that case, is there anybody who could relocate her to Postboard – you must need someone particularly insightful to interpret the results of surveys and convert them into earthly policies.”

“That is a really good idea. Thank you. Yes I can do that. Must go now I have an appointment with my landlord. He always slags me off when I am late at the bar. Cheers.”

“Me too. Cheers.”

These are just two examples of what could happen if the parliament opened a line of communication to the public. The people are well aware that the UK is in crisis and that the MPs need as much help as they can get to perform their roles as I hope will the MPs. Under the current system, the cloak of hubris which MPs assume after gaining office is propagated by their party leadership and this leads to effectively severing connection with the electorate the day after the election. Phew. Job done. Don't need them anymore. This lasts for 5 years, barring the MPs surgeries, until the electorate are needed again. The electorate can be there for the MPs every day if they can overcome their arrogance. This, however, is a major stumbling block.

It seems like a foolish approach to government to ignore the creativity of 67 million people even though they are being progressively dulled by GR. I have seen a letter from Imperial College London (Bill Gates funded) written to the WHO (not 100% sure) about 10 years ago stating that they (GR presumably) were aiming for 60% illiteracy in the UK. Judging from the amount of people I meet in the UK that are not confident in the three Rs and lack imagination, I reckon they must be achieving their objective with about 35 to 40% of the population. The dulled down inhabitants of the UK will be more amenable to injections or anything else nasty and will lack the imagination to suss out the massive illusions that are being presented to the world population. These people have to wake up.

A common expression is “there is one rule for us and another rule for them”. Never has that been more true. What people do not realise is that humanity is viewed with complete and utter contempt by the so called elites. Small insects. Why do they do that? I mean no harm to them. What really needs to be asked is “what harm are they doing to us?”

Readers, if you see the value in my plan, please discuss it with as many people as possible. But keep your discussions brief since we don't have much time. We have to start our movement towards freedom NOW to avoid more deaths and injuries . We cannot change anything until we have changed the top level. Imagine the joy of a 15 year-old girl who has helped the government and is acknowledged by the PM on Postboard . Needless to say, she was home-educated!

Remember, every night, before you go to sleep, review what you have done to:-

ABOLISH POLITICAL PARTIES!
